ECA Head Asks For 5½ Billion

Congress Told It's a Bargain

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman offered Congress a European recovery 'bargain' today—with a $5,580,000,000 price tag.

"If that program brings us peace and stability," he said, "and I fervently believe it can, it will turn out to be the greatest bargain the American people ever had."

Hoffman laid before the Senate-House Foreign Affairs committees the ECA aid program for the 15-month period of April 3, 1949, to June 30, 1950. But he warned this may not be enough.

He asked: (1) $1,150,000,000 to help non-communist European countries over the next April-June period, (2) another $4,280,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and (3) $150,000,000 to be spent in long-range planning beyond the end of that fiscal year.

"This is the time to hit hard for European recovery," Hoffman said, "time for the Europeans to take the drastic and sometimes painful steps necessary for real recovery, time for the United States to back their efforts to the full."

CHINA NOT LISTED

The program includes economic aid for Turkey and Greece. But there was no request for help for the embattled government of nationalist China, nor for Korea.

Hoffman said he will make an "interim proposal" on China and act itself."

Last year Congress appropriated $400,000,000 for aid to China, including $125,000,000 for military purposes.

Hoffman's request for $4,280,000,000 to be spent for Europe's recovery in fiscal 1950 is $770,000,000 less than ECA is spending during the first year's operation.

Sues For $350,000

CLEVELAND — (AP) — A personal injury suit for $350,000 was filed by Rabbi George E. Lieberman, 38, of Canton, in federal court yesterday, against the Pennsylvania Railroad company. The rabbi was injured when the railroad's Red Arrow plunged down an embankment near Altoona, Pa., on Feb. 13, 1947, killing 25 persons and injuring more than 120.

Grilling of Suspect Ends In a Hurry!

CINCINNATI —(AP)— City Detective Niswonger got a straight answer to a straight question yesterday.

"How did you get into this country?" he asked a man picked up on suspicion of illegal entry into the United States.

"Mister, I'm a full-blooded Sioux Indian; I was born here." the man replied. "How did you get here?"

Personal Tax Listing Started

Payments Due By April 10

The listing period for county personal property taxes opened today and continues to March 31, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe announced. He urged taxpayers to go to his office as "early as possible in order to receive prompt attention."

A total of 5,500 personal property blanks have gone out to taxpayers of record, Wolfe said. The taxes are payable by April 10.

Wolfe said farmers who must file a new inventory form along with their tax return may obtain assistance in his office, at the banks of Lucas, Lexington, Bellville and Shiloh and at Laser and Hancock, Shelby.

Taxes collected last year included $463,421 in general and $53,012 in classified personal property taxes.

The lien date for personal property in Ohio is Jan. 1. General personal property includes merchandise and equipment used in business, inventories, machinery and equipment used in industries, and livestock, grain and equipment owned by farmers.

These items are taxed at 70 per cent of the true value and tax rate is the same as on real estate in the district.

Classified property is taxed at five per cent of the income from securities, except government bonds, bank stocks and Ohio Insurance company stock.

Interest on notes, land contracts and paid-up insurance policies is taxable at five per cent. Bank and building and loan deposits are taxable at the source and need not be listed.

Rents, salaries, wages, pensions and fees for professional services are not taxable under this law.

Heard 3 Men Arguing

No Charges Filed In Slaying

Clayton Luckie, 37, former Senior high school athlete, was arguing with two men in the Paradise club, 224½ North Main street, shortly before he was shot down in front of the club Saturday night, the club proprietress told The News-Journal today.

Mrs. Clarine Davis, who operates the private club, said Luckie came to the club to see a man who roomed there, and he and a third man became involved in an argument with the victim. Mrs. Davis said she did not know what the argument was about, nor did she identify the two men.

She said the argument was carried out on the street where Luckie was shot.

Meanwhile police, who hadn't booked anybody for the murder at noon today, declined to reveal what their investigation has uncovered.

Police are holding three men and two women in the shooting late Saturday night. Three of the men and one of the women were listed at the same address, 834 North Main street. The other woman gave a Pittsburgh address.

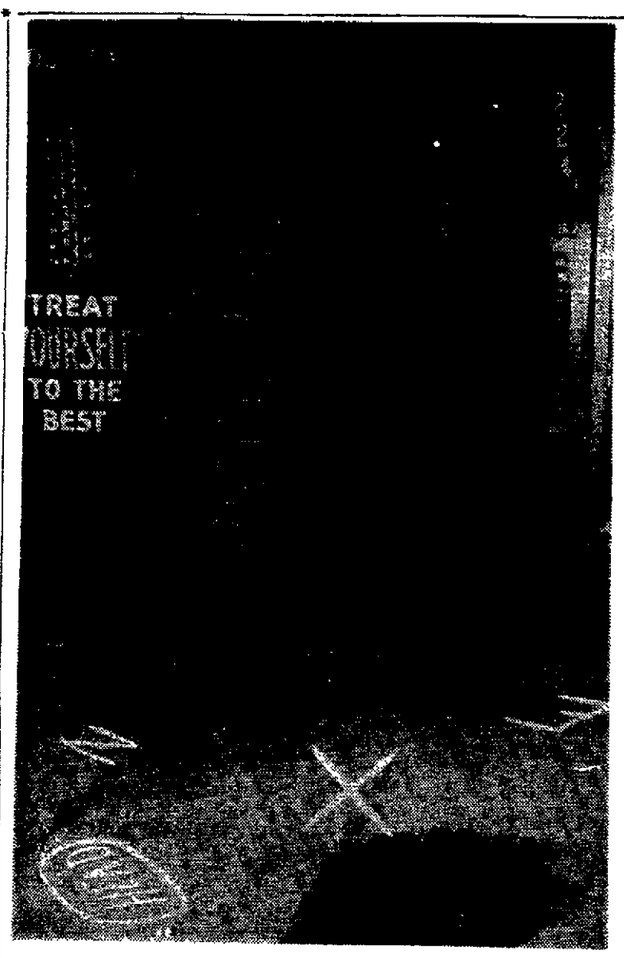
DECLINE COMMENT

It was reported police found the murder gun at the North Main street address. However, detectives had no comment on whether they were in possession of the weapon.

Luckie was shot on the sidewalk in front of the Paradise club, as he stood beneath the building and the curb. His assailant stood in the doorway of the upstairs club from which he pumped four shots into his victim. One of the shots went through Luckie's mouth, and three went into his thighs, police reported. Several more shots went wild and struck a car parked at the curb.

The Paradise club is a charter social club run by Mrs. Davis, who lives at the same address. It has no license to sell liquor, Mrs. Davis said, but its members may bring their own drinks. Asked whether there were any poker games at the club, she replied, "Not since all this talk about getting tough on gambling."

She declined to say what had been going on at the club prior to the shooting Saturday night. She said she had given a statement to police but would not reveal what she had said.



UP THESE STAIRS—Police investigation today turned to an attempt to learn what went on up these stairs which resulted in the fatal shooting Saturday night of Clayton Luckie, 37, of 867 Bowman street. The stairs lead to the Paradise club at 224½ North Main street. Luckie died of bullet wounds received when he fled down these steps. He fell on the walk in foreground.

City Sues To Extend East Fifth

Asks Telephone Company Land

The City of Mansfield today started court action to obtain land at the end of East Fifth street so the street can be extended to Ashland road. The land is owned by the Mansfield Telephone company.

In an action filed in common pleas court, City Colicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch asks that a jury be impaneled to assess compensation for the appropriation of a 60-foot right-of-way on telephone property.

The city's petition said the court will be asked at a hearing next Monday to impanel a special jury.

The strip in question extends from East Fifth and Snyder streets to the Ashland road, paralleling the Rocky Fork creek. It contains 1.18 acres of land and is approximately 650 feet long.

Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals has said the land is needed to put a one-way street system into effect and to relieve traffic congestion in that area.

WOULD SET PRICE

The common pleas court jury, after inquiring into the matter, would set the price the city would have to pay the telephone company.

City council on Aug. 3 declared its intention of using the strip for extending East Fifth street, and on Dec. 7, directed appropriation of the property after giving due notice to the telephone company.

Attempts by city officials to purchase the land have been futile, the telephone company refusing to sell. The company, in a letter to city officials, said the land was purchased for use as a location for a plant department, company warehouse and pole yard.

The letter said the land when purchased was a partial swamp which was filled in at considerable cost, and adds that reduction of the frontage on the property would be "destructive to our interests."

Fail to Qualify For Ballot

Board Rules Out 2 Ward Candidates

Two Fourth ward council candidates were ruled out yesterday afternoon by the county board of elections because their petitions did not meet requirements. The Republicans lost their only candidate for the ward council post.

The board took under advisement the petition of Harry E. Colbow, Democratic candidate for Second ward councilman, to determine whether he has been a city resident long enough to seek a city office.

The Fourth ward candidates who were ruled out were William D. Blank, 188 Harker street, one of three Democrats seeking the nomination, and Frank A. Schlemmer, of 669 McPherson street, only GOP candidate for the office.

Board members said his declaration was ruled out because his petition had only four valid signatures of qualified electors whereas five are required.

Blank's petition was disqualified, the board said, because the signatures were not written in ink or indelible pencil, as required by law. Left in the Fourth ward Democratic race for that office are the incumbent, Harry Bowman, and a former councilman, Lester D. Hunter.

Colbow, of 526 Clifton boulevard, was mayor of South Boulevards until the village was incorporated into the city last September.

The board said state law specifies that a candidate must have resided in the ward for at least a year prior to the election. Board Clerk Thomas R. Zeigler said he was instructed to ask Prosecutor Harold Lutz for an opinion on that question.

Invitations have gone out to five printing companies to bid for the printing and furnishing of ballots to be used in the May primaries.

The five are the Courier Printing company, Mansfield Printing company, Marquis Printing company, Pioneer Printing company, Richland Printing company.

Rent Battle Hits Akron

Landlords Fight Against Controls

AKRON — (AP) — A group of Akron landlords, claiming there is no serious housing shortage here, plans to let their rental units become vacant. They are protesting rent controls.

As tenants move out, the units will be allowed to stand empty. The addresses will be listed on a downtown billboard as an indication of housing space being withheld from the market.

Approximately 300 persons attended a meeting last night, sponsored by the Summit County Rental and Home Owners league. This organization claims a membership of about 1,000, controlling about 1,600 units.

About 70 rental units already are off the market, those attending the session in West high school auditorium reported.

E. L. Marting sr., former city councilman, presided. When one member said from the floor that "if rent controls were lifted, there would be no shortage here within 90 days," Marting commented:

"I believe it would take six months."

The landlords approved sending a telegram to President Truman, advising him their properties would be allowed to become vacant until rent controls are lifted and that the billboard would list the addresses.

Hold 2 In Killing

CINCINNATI —(INS)— Cincinnati police were to file homicide charges today against two youths accused of beating Elmer Wilson, 34, to death in front of a Walnut Hills cafe. James Hughes, 20, and Chester Bennett, 18, are charged with being two of three youths who attacked Wilson.

Claims Women Best Drivers

COLUMBUS —(AP) — Women are better drivers than men—that is with several things yet to consider, the State Highway department reported yesterday.

Officials haltingly gave the preliminary decision to the women following a survey of "women versus men" in traffic accidents.

Of course, "the question needs much further study," Highway Director Theodore J. Kauer said. "So many variables" are involved.

Actually, the survey showed only that in accidents women were in violation of state traffic laws fewer times than men.

'Mike' Case Draws Fire

Three Officers Facing Charges

LIMA—(INS)—The three-man committee investigating the Allen county "hidden mike" case today recommended criminal contempt of court proceedings against three Lima law officers.

The committee's ruling empowers Allen County Common Pleas Judge Moran B. Jenkins to sentence or fine Sheriff William R. Dailey and Police Detectives Bernard Burkhart and Robert Neely.

Jenkins has said that this is the "first case in history" of a U. S. court being wired and it "endangers the constitutional rights of every citizen of Allen county."

Jenkins discovered the microphone Jan. 24 hidden behind panelling in a jury ante-room used for conferences between Richard E. Snyder, standing trial in his wife's death and his defense counsel.

Fake Divorce Brings Fines For 4 Newsmen

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Editor Louis B. Seltzer of the Cleveland Press was fined $500 today for contempt of the Common Pleas Court of Cuyahoga county.

Prosecution of the Press members was directed by a group of seven lawyers, acting as "friends of the court," who drew up the contempt citation following publication of a "fake" divorce story.

Judge Silber also fined Louis Clifford, city editor, and Leonard Hammer, the reporter who wrote the story, $200 each. Richard Campbell, makeup editor who permitted Hammer to use his and his wife's name in the fake divorce story, was fined $100 while his wife, Florence, was not fined.

GAS FUMES KILL YOUTH

ZANESVILLE — (AP) — Howard Newton Jackson, 19, Nellie, Coshocton county, died of carbon monoxide poisoning in his parked car on a downtown Zanesville street today, Coroner S. S. Daw ruled.

Accusers File Appeal, Urge Death Penalty

BUDAPEST — (INS) — A Hungarian court sentenced Josef Cardinal Mindszenty to life imprisonment today, but the government prosecutor immediately appealed to a higher tribunal for the death penalty.

The 56-year-old Roman Catholic primate stood calm and expressionless, his eyes lowered and his hands folded, as Court President Vilmos Olti read the verdict in the Budapest court building.

Olti, head of the five-man "people's court" representing the communist-dominated government, announced that the cardinal was guilty of treason, organizing a conspiracy against the republic, violating the law for the defense of the republic, and black market currency dealings.

The court also ordered the confiscation of all property belonging to the cardinal and five of his six co-defendants.

Prosecutor Dr. Gyulas Alapi expressed his disapproval of the verdict and promptly appealed to the "Supreme Council of People's Courts" to impose the most severe punishment — death by hanging.

Hint Joint Action On Sentencing

Britain, America Angered By Trial

LONDON — (INS) — The British government approached the United States today concerning possible joint action in connection with the life sentence given to Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

Such action would be based on alleged violation of the allied peace treaty with Hungary. Article II provides guarantees for freedom of speech and religion.

A foreign office spokesman said:

"We still have the duty of informing ourselves whether or not Hungary is adhering to conditions of the treaty."

Hungary yesterday rejected a British protest against refusal to permit a British observer to attend the Mindszenty trial. The rejection noted that Britain was the only power to mention the peace treaty in connection with the proceedings.

Catholic and non-Catholic leaders of western Europe—in sorrow and in anger—joined in denouncing the sentence of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty to life in prison.

At Vatican City—Pope Pius XII called for a "militant, intense faith" to oppose atheism shortly after learning that Cardinal Mindszenty was sentenced to life in prison by Hungary's communist-controlled regime.

A Vatican spokesman said that the Pontiff turned pale and appeared "deeply grieved" on learning of the fate of the Hungarian primate.

Later, addressing a group of the "Sister of the Perpetual Adoration," his holiness—without referring directly to the Mindszently case—observed that when the order was founded 100 years ago, the struggle between atheism and faith was just being joined.

A Vatican press officer predicted that the holy father will soon issue a denunciation in "the harshest terms" of the communist-dominated trial of the cardinal.

However, a Hungarian foreign Ministry spokesman sought to allay this fear by saying that the Roman Catholic Primate will receive "collective imprisonment" — the lightest form in Hungary.

The Foreign Ministry official said that the cardinal will be imprisoned in "a large cell with 12 or 15 other prisoners."

He added that the cardinal will not be forced to perform hard labor, adding that the place where the prelate is to be imprisoned is not yet known.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Under Hungarian law, a higher court can impose a more severe penalty as well as lighten a sentence—contrary to Anglo-Saxon procedure.)

Appeals for clemency were addressed to the supreme council by lawyers for the cardinal and four other defendants.

One of the defendants, Bela Ispanky, a Catholic priest, was sentenced to life in prison. The five other accused men—all prominent Hungarian Catholic leaders—received prison terms of from 15 to 3 years.

The judges adjourned the brief morning session after ordering the sentences to be reviewed by the supreme tribunal of the Hungarian Peoples' court.

The spacious, high-windowed jury room was deathly still as Olti read the verdicts save for the weeping of a woman—the wife of Prince Paul Esterhazy, one of the defendants.

Court President Olti, explaining the cardinal's prison sentence, stated that the court had considered as mitigating circumstance the fact that the prelate had "confessed his guilt and regretted his former actions."

During the three day trial last week, Cardinal Mindszenty admitted "guilt in principle" to some of the charges, but challenged the overall treason indictment.

"PROPAGANDA VICTIM"

Olti added that another factor in the cardinal's favor was that he had lived "a life far removed from real life . . . and had been under the influence of war propaganda."

However, the court president added, against this was the argument that the cardinal was well-educated and held a responsible position, so that he "should have seen events much better."

Meanwhile, U. S. Minister to Hungary Selden Chapin expressed fears that Cardinal Mindszenty's life prison term may involve hard labor.

Red Conspiracy In the U. S. A.

Army Life Was Rugged For Chief Spy Hunter

By ROBERT STRIPLING
(Edited by Bob Considine)

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the tenth article of a series examining the Communist conspiracy in the United States.

The only reason I mention my time in the army, and the only way in which my experience differs from that of millions of others, is that whoever was desirous of placing me there never lost sight of me—though I was undistinguishable from millions of other privates.

After a week at Fort Meade, and the first two weeks of what was for me, a desk worker more or less, a physically difficult 18 weeks of basic training, I was visited at Camp Joseph T. Robinson (Little Rock, Ark.) by a secretive captain from Washington.

"We want you," he said. "You will be given a commission and be permanently assigned to the state of Washington, or Tennessee or New Mexico. I can tell you nothing else. Will you accept?"

It is, I found, difficult for a man in his thirties to keep up with 18, 19 and 20-year-old farmboys and athletes. On the first day I was ordered to run a mile with them, I fell over on my face about 100 yards short of the finish line. For punishment, I was ordered to get down on the parade ground, in front of the rest of the trainees, and do 100 push-ups.

On the second mile run I got to within about 50 yards before I caved in. That called for additional punishment, but I told the young man that, if he gave me a little time, by God I'd run my mile with a full pack—which I eventually did after I had lost 40 pounds.

So I told him I'd be very glad to accept his offer.

"We'll send for you in a couple of days." he said, and marched out. I never heard from him again.

Then I was sent to Camp Bullis, near San Antonio, for a course in the Criminal Investigating school of the CID.

I was ready to go overseas with other products of the school, and was actually packing my things, when a young officer ran down our company street one afternoon calling my name.

"The Secretary of War's on the phone!" he shouted at me. "He is sending special orders concerning you, and we're to keep you here."

I waited five days for the special orders, and then was

Seeks Solution to City's Traffic Problem

C of C Studies Parking Garage Proposal

Plans for relieving the parking problem in downtown Mansfield were discussed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce new projects and planning committee.

Chief proposal was a parking garage to be constructed downtown to take care of future parking needs. It was suggested that a survey be made of hotels to see if they could promise the use of a certain number of spaces in the garage, before further consideration would be given to such a building.

For relieving the immediate parking problem it was suggested that a survey be made to determine if churches and private residents would permit the use of some of their land for parking space. The committee welcomed further suggestions for solving the problem.

Present at the meeting were Dean Dickerson, president of the C of C; John Routzon, secretary manager; William Toole, James Hill, Carl Rupp jr., Traffic commissioner Frend Boals, Orlo L. Smith, Ed L. Schmidt, Avery Hand jr., and Robert Peele.

Traffic Commissioner Boals told the meeting Mansfield had the greatest number of cars per capita in the country, not excluding Detroit and Los Angeles. He said Mansfield had to furnish parking space for 40,000 automobiles, owned in the city area, and for that number of cars there are only 2,500 spaces available.

There are only 485 parking meters in the downtown area, Boals said, and the situation is constantly becoming worse.

Train, Auto Crash; 3 Dead

TOLEDO — (UP) — Three officials of the Piper Cub company at Lock Haven, Pa., were killed last night and a fourth was injured critically when the Pennsylvania railroad's "Golden Arrow" passenger train struck the automobile in which they were riding, state police reported.

Police identified the dead as Alexander Cresswell, McElhattan, Pa., and Pierce L. Russell and Marvin Armstrong, both of Lock Haven. The injured man, identified as Clyde Bowers of Lock Haven, was taken unconscious to a hospital here. No one aboard the train was injured.

Despite Current Cleanup, CIO Unions No Better Than Before

CHICAGO — The defeat of the communists within the CIO by a few suddenly sanctimonious old Reds and fellow-travelers leaves that unregenerate, criminal klux no better than it ever was. The fact that the veritable Muscovite bolos were betrayed by a small set of double-crossers who heard the whish of angels' wings and got afraid of dying unshriven, only proves again that this monstrous power has neither principles nor conscience.

It is to the good that the communists are made confused and weak. But it is to the bad that men who played with them for years, and then suddenly ratted on their trusting comrades, are now put forth as virtuous leaders of labor, deserving all trust.

Not one of them has made confession and recantation to the public. Any private arrangements they may have made with religious authorities are only hearsay and would be valueless if not cause for further suspicion

The public is composed of people of all communions, most of them competitive and inherently antagonistic, plus a very large law-abiding body of un-religious citizens who never concede any impairment of their rights on that account.

And the people are the high public authority in the case of these backsliders. It is for the whole public to hear what they have to say and to turn thumbs up or down. But up to now, these old miscreants are not even avowed backsliders. In the past, they lacked the manhood to say, "Yes, we are communists or fellow-travelers and we warn you not to trust us." When they changed, they still hadn't the guts to say to the millions whom they had tormented and oppressed, physically and spiritually, that they had seen their error, and ask forgiveness.

Therefore, although we may enjoy the defeat of the communists, we owe not even amnesty, much less rehabilitation, to the men who got up in the night and let in the law.

The C. I. O. came into the world with the stigma of many original sins — vandalism, anarchy, bloodshed and false witness. It was not intended to be a labor movement but was intended to be a political annex of the Roosevelt party, an enormous duchy, practicing serfdom on millions of citizens and sluicing graft into the party's political treasury. That has been its function, all other works having been merely instrumental.

The bosses of the A. F. of L. howled for years that the labor relations board was an organizing bureau for this lawless system of communist mobs.

Those who argue, even undertake to order, that American citizens must join unions express only an opinion.

To such a counsellor I would say, "Show me first that you have done your duty to provide decent conditions for me within that union. Show me what you have done to protect me from betrayal by men who first betrayed their subjects to the communists, and then betrayed the communists to you. Show me what you ever did to reform racketeers who are sensitive to your authority and put them to the penitential task of making restitution according to the duties of your own office.

"Show me this first and then we will argue whether I have a duty to my fellow-man to join a union. And let me remind you of your duty to do all you can to make the unions good, first. You seem to have forgotten."

Never try to tell me, as a citizen, that I must join a union and entrust my personality and the livelihood of my family to Philip Murray, Mike Quill, Joe Curran or any other who recently threw the communists out of power. I was fighting communists—"red-baiting" they call it—fifteen years ago. These men who had the power to drive them out used their power to hurt me instead.

When you try to make me yield and trust these men, whether by abusive language or sacerdotal authority, I don't trust you.

Given Pen Sentence For Theft

Rodgers Chooses His Own Prison

One man was to begin serving a sentence in the Ohio state penitentiary today and two others are on five years probation. All pleaded guilty before Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch in Richland county Common Pleas Court last week to indictments returned against them by a grand jury. They were sentenced yesterday afternoon.

Kenneth W. Rodgers, 25, of Forest Garden Trailer camp, received a one-to-15 years sentence in the penitentiary for breaking and entering. Placed on five years probation were Glenn R. Jacobs, 22, of the DeSoto hotel, for receiving stolen goods, and Richard Raymond Park, 21, of 556 Springmill street, for breaking and entering.

Rodgers was arrested last December for the theft of nearly $500 worth of cameras and photographic equipment from the Perez—Smucker studio, 45 North Mulberry street, on Christmas eve. He was taken into custody as he attempted to dispose of some of the stolen goods.

Before sentence was passed County Prosecutor Harold Lutz read the defendant's record to the court which included a 10-year suspended sentence for armed robbery.

Judge Kalbfleisch asked Rodgers whether he preferred to be sentenced to the reformatory or the penitentiary. The prisoner chose the penitentiary.

Jacobs, who was connected with the same case, was sentenced for having bought some of the stolen goods from Rodgers. He said he had been a friend of Rodgers for several months. All the equipment stolen from the studio has been recovered, the prosecutor said.

EIGHTY TODAY—William H. Ailer celebrates his 80th birthday today doing the thing he enjoys most . . . setting type in his basement printing shop.

Keeps Busy at 80

Observes Birthday Setting Type

By MARGARET MATTOX

William Ailer, Mansfield printer for nearly fifty years, was quietly observing his 80th birthday at his home today by indulging in his favorite hobby — printing!

Born Feb. 8, 1869, in New Washington, Ailer has followed the same trade since starting as a printer in Willard where he and Mrs. Ailer lived following their marriage in Bellville nearly 56 years ago.

Later he was employed as a printer in Columbus, Pittsburgh, and New Kensington, Pa. finally coming to Mansfield where he was employed on the Mansfield Shield. He recalls that Louis Bromfield, then just a youngster, also worked on the daily paper. Later he worked for the George Holm Printing company which was located at 115 North Main street.

He and Mrs. Ailer have lived in the same house at 202 South Mulberry street, for nearly 50 years during which time he has operated a job-printing shop in the basement. He sets his type by hand.

Only once since coming to Mansfield did he ever venture into another line of work, and that was when he owned and operated a grocery store on Daisy street.

While Ailer insists there be no celebration in honor of his birthday, he was much pleased when his neighbor, Frank J. Hughes, presented him with a birthday gift Monday. Mrs. Ailer thinks perhaps there might be a little party tonight, however, if a group of their friends stop in for ice cream and cake, as they did last year on her husband's birthday.

Mr. Ailer, who is on the job every day, is a member of First Presbyterian church, and was a charter member of the Moose lodge. He and Mrs. Ailer are looking forward to the celebration of their 56th wedding anniversary next November.

IN SPOTLIGHT TWICE

Mansfield will have the spotlight twice this week on the "Ohio Story" over WTAM, Cleveland. Sponsored by the Ohio Bell Telephone company, the "Ohio Story" featuring Mansfield will be heard Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. The Wednesday night broadcast will relate the story of Jim Purdy, the man who built the north-central railroad network of Ohio. By 1850, Purdy had made Mansfield the center of a network of railroads reaching from Chicago to the east coast and from Lake Erie to the Ohio River. Again on Friday evening, Mansfield will be the locale of the "Ohio Story" when several possible angles of the famous Mansfield-Sandusky newspaper hoax that was responsible for the nomination of Abraham Lincoln will be narrated. The hoax, it is believed, started when a Mansfield newsman wired a Sandusky paper that Lincoln received an enthusiastic endorsement by a county convention in Mansfield The item though a joke, was picked up by papers all over the country and contributed to Lincoln's publicity.

Announce Schedule For Year

Pastors Offer Staff Members

Twenty-two Mansfield churches have indicated they will staff the daily vacation Bible schools scheduled for June 13-24 in city churches, the school planning group was told last night at a meeting at the First Methodist church.

This was an unexpected move by the city's pastors, Mrs. H. E. Neese, chairman of the steering committee, reported.

In previous years, the steering committee provided staff workers and the churches donated use of their buildings. Now the entire responsibility will be taken over by the churches, which will use the Daily Vacation Bible school materials and curriculum.

This cooperation by Mansfield pastors is part of the city-wide movement to aid in providing religious education to the city's school children. It gives impetus to plans for a city-wide, year-round program being considered by the Council of Religious Education.

However, a general director has yet to be selected, Mrs. Neese said.

Last night tentative plans were made to provide several centralized schools for those districts where there are neither schools nor churches. The children of these districts will be transported to the centralized points by bus if plans are carried through.

OUT OF SCHOOLS

No school buildings will be used this year in the annual program, Mrs. Neese said. She stated that inquiries had been received for classes for the teenage children who want handcraft classes as well as study. This matter will be taken under consideration, she added.

The curriculum committee, as announced last night by Mrs. Neese, includes Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh, assistant pastor of the First Lutheran church; Mrs. Charles B. Ray, former religious education teacher in the city's schools, and Mrs. V. C. Stamets, wife of the pastor of the First Evangelical UB church.

This committee is expected to receive materials and call a supervisor's meeting within the next two weeks.

The 22 churches which have promised their cooperation include:: St. Matthew's Lutheran, First Methodist, First Evangelical UB, St. John's Evangelical, First United Presbyterian, Grace Gospel, St. Paul Lutheran, St. Mark's Lutheran, Mt. Hermon Baptist, Shiloh Baptist, East Mansfield United Presbyterian, First Brethren, Bowman street, Salvation Army, Church of the Nazarene, Church of God in Christ, Mt. Calvary Baptist, Main Street, Evangelical UB, Mansfield Church of the Brethren, Lincoln Heights, Park Avenue Baptist and the Mayflower Congregational.

Parolee Returned to OSR; Indictment To Be Sought

ELlmer E. Swanger, 29, a Mansfield reformatory parolee who is being held for investigation in connection with the entry of a farm house north of Mansfield early Saturday, will be returned to the reformatory for violation of parole, County Prosecutor Harold Lutz said.

No affidavits will be signed against him by the county but an indictment will be sought at the next term of the grand jury, Lutz said. The prosecutor said an indictment for auto theft, or breaking and entering, or both, would be asked against Swanger.

The parolee was captured by sheriff's deputies shortly after he allegedly entered the home of J. M. Oney, on State Route 13. He was identified by Mr. and Mrs. Oney Saturday.

The prisoner was released from the reformatory last Jan. 13 after having served 16 months for breaking and entering. He was sentenced from Stark county, and since his release had been working in Mansfield.

Lutz said an indictment would be just as easy to obtain if Swanger were returned to the reformatory as it would be if he were lodged in the county jail pending the next term of the grand jury. The county would thus be saved the expense of lodging and feeding the prisoner, Lutz pointed out.

Swanger was captured in a stolen car near the Oney home after the car had run out of gas. Swanger had entered the farm house to obtain the keys to Oney's car. Oney fired two shots at the man as he fled the house, sheriff's deputies said.

Pair Wanted In Ashland

Last Friday both youths were put on five years' probation by Richland County Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch after both pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent. Shoup also pleaded guilty to forging two checks, each for $36.

Shoup was arrested yesterday by police on the Ashland police warrant when he walked into the city building to confer with Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler.

According to Ashland police, undetermined amounts of money were taken from the Ashland Willys Sales in the three burglaries. Mansfield police said both youths pleaded guilty to stealing a car in Mansfield last summer and abandoning it in Parma.

Ram Coach May Juggle Starting Lineup

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

THERE MAY BE more coaching changes in the offing before the Northern Ohio Athletic conference begins operation next fall. . . . The only opening right now is at Warren Harding where Heinie Beck moved up to the post of director of physical education and athletics in Warren city schools. However, Bup Rearick is to confer with Warren officials this week in regards to the job. Rearick is the football coach at Canton McKinley. Bup also has talked with Miami U. officials about the open Redskin head grid post.

Both Rearick and Chuck Mather, Massillon mentor, were contacted by Ohio State Coach Wes Fesler about filling one of the vacancies on the Buck football staff. The reported $4 500 salary for the State job seems to be the factor which caused the Canton and Massillon coaches to reject the offer.

Mather also is rumored in on the Miami deal. Chuck has not discussed the position with Miami officials but his name keeps popping up on the rumor mart. Harry Strobel, Barberton coach, has also been linked with the Miami and Ohio State jobs. Fritz Heisler, Cleveland Brown coach was apparently No. 1 among 60 applicants for the Miami post but now says he'll stick with the Browns.

Lexington Seeks Win For Revenge

By CHARLEY STINE

Madison high basketball Coach Blaine Dowler was still undecided at noon today just what combination he will trust with bringing the Rams' record above the .500 mark at Lexington tonight.

Madison is scheduled to invade the county school with the reserve preliminary getting things under way at 7:30 p. m.

Dowler had planned a wholesale shakeup after the team's poor showing in losing to Crestline Friday but wavered after the "first team" looked good in practice last night.

SAME STARTERS

"Our starting lineup tonight will probably be the same as always. "Dowler said this morning. "However, if things don't go right away, we will switch to a two platoon system."

Such a system, according to the coach's plan, would be to play the seniors on the squad in one team with the other five being composed of "next year's team."

This would mean the advancement of Gene Riblet to the senior group and that Sophomore Ed Chelski, the team's leading scorer, would play with Dave Davies, Norm Hughes, Russ Glenn, and Eugene Yohn. The fine reserve team with its three tall forwards, will not be tampered with, with the possible exception of moving up one or two boys for the tournament roster.

ALL HANDS READY

All hands in the Madison camp are in fine physical condition. Even Joe Distl, the perennially ailing center, was to have the tape removed from his back this afternoon. Distl missed several games around the holidays with a pulled-back muscle.

Several other important games are slated for area play tonight.

In Morrow county, Edison is host to Chesterviille in a traditionally "hot" game. Other "B" games in the area include Plymouth at Leesville, Johnsville at Iberia, Amherst at New London, Tiro at North Robinson, Mount Zion at Harpster, and Lykens at Sycamore.

Bucyrus invades Marion Harding and Bellevue goes to Elyria in other tests.

Feature Bucks

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Ohio State's Scarlet and Gray Thinclads will be featured in their first dual meet appearance of the 1949 indoor season Friday night at Michigan state.

Ohio Staters Stay In Conference Race

Ohio State, in a brilliant final-half drive, defeated Indiana's Hoosiers, 72-59, last night to remain in the race for the Big Nine basketball title.

A capacity home crowd of 5,733 watched the Bucks run up their fifth win against three losses in conference play. It was Indiana's fourth loss in six league starts.

Bob Raidiger, junior center, paced Ohio State with 11 field goals and four free throws for 26 points. Gene Melzer, a sub forward, sank five field goals in as many tries and wound up the night with 15 points.

The Bucks grabbed an early lead, but Indiana forged ahead to a 35-29 margin in the final minutes of the first half. Ohio State then went ahead, 36-35. With two seconds left in the half Jerry Stuteville tied the count at 36-all with a free throw.

Big surprise of the game was Bob Schnittker's inability to gather more than eight points. Big gun for the game was OSU Center Bob Raidiger with 26 points.

The Bucks discarded the conservative style of play that won them an upset victory at Minnesota Saturday night and engaged in slam-bank basket shooting with Indiana.

Ohio State tried 69 field goal attempts with 28 of them counting. Indiana hit for 20 out of 83 attempts.

Four Teams Near Leading Illinois In Big Nine Race

CHICAGO—(INS)—The Western conference basketball standings looked like an accordion playing "Nola" today, with four teams pleated no more than a game and a half back of front-running Illinois.

The Illini preserved their top position last night at Champaign, Ill., by crushing Northwestern, 85 to 66, while second-place Minnesota, which could have moved into first by default had the Illini lost, remained idle.

In the meantime, third-place Michigan and the two clubs that were tied for fourth—Ohio State and Purdue—all won.

Michigan inched past Wisconsin, 40 to 38, at Ann Arbor, Mich. Purdue dumped in five free throws and a field goal in the final two and a half minutes to insure its 54-46 conquest of Iowa at Lafayette, Ind., and Ohio State, tied 36-all at the half, pulled away in the last 20 minutes to subdue Indiana, 72 to 59, at Columbus.

BIG ONE SATURDAY

Next Saturday night's doings can render the situation almost hopeless, if the right things happen. Should Ohio beat Illinois at Champaign, Michigan beat Indiana at Bloomington, Ind., and Minnesota either win or lose in its home game against Iowa, four teams would be bunched within the span of one game.

Illinois can keep its head very neatly above water, however, through the mere expedient of beating Ohio State, and such a thing figures. The Illini haven't lost a home game in or out of the conference all season long.

Their victory over Northwestern last night set a new season's high for points both by a winning team and by both teams in conference play.

DiMaggio's Now Mr. Big In Ball Pay

NEW YORK—(AP)—Prices are going down and so are baseball salaries, but Joe DiMaggio, Bobby Feller, Walker Cooper and Ralph Kiner won't go hungry this year.

DiMaggio especially won't have any trouble keeping the wolf from the door. The New York Yankee star, along with Feller, Kiner and Cooper, agreed to terms yesterday. DiMaggio was the only one of the four, however, who admittedly received a raise.

The Yankee Clipper signed a one-year contract which experts believe will net him $90,000.

BEST ONE EVER

DiMaggio said it was "by far the best contract I ever had." Yankee President Dan Topping said DiMaggio got a one year contract and a raise.

The signing took place in the Yanks' plush Fifth avenue office—the third session between DiMaggio and the club. Reports had DiMaggio asking for a flat $100,000 document which would have made him the highest-paid player of all time.

DiMaggio's contract is said to call for a base pay of $60,000 plus a series of bonuses based on the club's home gate.

Feller, who agreed to terms offered by Cleveland President Bill Veeck Sunday night, will make it official this afternoon in Cleveland by inking the form.

Feller will receive the same base pay as last year—$40,000 and bonuses based on home attendance. He will start collecting his bonus money when the Tribe attendance hits the 1,250,000 mark and will stop at 2,500,000. Should Cleveland reach the two and one half million mark Feller will bank $72.500. He struggled along on $82,500 last year.

CALLS FOR $30,000

Kiner, the slugging star of the Pittsburgh Pirates, signed a one-year contract calling for around $30.000. The exact terms are unknown but a Pirate source said Kiner's contract "always has contained a bonus arrangement." Kiner has either led or been tied for the circuit's home run leadership the past three years.

Cooper, the hard-hitting catcher of the New York Giants, was persuaded to join the fold by his manager, Leo Durocher, in Kansas City.

The big backstop had been asked to take a $7,500 cut from his $30,000 salary of 1948 but he balked. A compromise is figured to give Cooper around $25,000.

Jewell Leads Pin Parade With 642

Paul Jewell stood atop Mansfield bowlingdom today with a 176-277-189—642 which led the Commercial C league on the Colony alleys. Jewell rolled anchor man for Wolford funeral home.

Fritz Keiffer's 587 with Local 17 did the most damage, however, as he led his team to a three game sweep over Urschel Insurance. That broke a four-way tie for first place as Tinkey Lumber won two of three from Mansfield Tire. Local 17, Tinkey's, Tire, and Urschel's had all been tied for the lead.

Local 17 now leads by one game over Tire and two over Tinkey's and Barnes Market. Urschels fell to fifth.

Ted LeMunyon rolled a 579 with Barnes Meat Market while Don Dancer of Pioneer Printing had 576, Emmett McIntire, Urschel's, 570; Jim Dunn, Mansfield Tire, 572, and Harold Matthews, Local 17, 557.

Four other sweeps were recorded in the "C" loop. Orphans, Barnes, Pioneer Printing and Frisch Grocery each won three games.

Local 17 was easily tops among the teams with 2,704 while Barnes Meat Market had 2680. In the single game department, Clee Cole had a 236 for Barnes while Dick Adams, Independent Towel, came in with a 227 and Al Baki, Barnes, 218.

★

Bowlers in the Richland A league enjoyed their best night of the season as three honor roll scores were posted.

Mike Rohal, No. 4 man on the Oak Park Tavern quintet, was the top maple splitter with a fine 214-207-211 — 632. Orlie Grable, Richland, was second with 215-211-178 — 604 and H. Bosh, Frank Williams, had 170-198-234—602.

Carl Heilman, Morgan's Cleaners, had 160-188-221 — 569. Others: Gene Rudolph, Miller's, 556; Morrison Boyle, Wonder Bread, 536; John Heckert, McCarrick's Gulf, 532 and Hammy Johns, Morgan's, 531.

League-leading Oak Park Tavern took team honors by sweeping three from Ideal Tavern. Oak Park had 2621 pins. Morgan's and McCarrick's got the other sweeps.

Fred Peterson, Schoolmasters, also climbed on the "600" pin wagon with a 204-213-199—616 in the Club league. Just missing the honor roll was Floyd Messmore, Optimists, 164-208-226—598 and Bob Lynch, University, 173-203-213—589.

Others: Ed Miller, Page Diary, 566; Howard Wenning, Baku Grotto, 556; Reggie Bookman, Liederkranz, 552 and J. R. Hetler, Liederkranz, 542. Wenning stumbled on the second game as he had 204-133-219. M. Cairns, Lions club, had a 232.

In the consistency division, Kenneth Abbott, American Legion, had two 180's and a 179.

★

Not to be outdone, J. Rhoads concocted a good 195-212-211—618 in the Richland C handicap league. He rolled in the leadoff spot for Charm Fashions.

His teammate Gene Rudolph followed with 178-178-181—537 while Jack Menke had 201-186-145—532 for News-Journal No. 1. Others: J. Calderhead, Mansfield Business School, 527; Jim Bly, Watson Jewelers, 515 and Bob Saltzgaber, Saltzgaber's Drilling, 515.

★

Another near miss was fired in the Gorman-Rupp league at the Colony as Dick Noblet had 224-196-172—592. C. Penrose came in with 213-177-186—576. Others: P. Barnes, 540; D. Backman, 521 and E. Turner, 510. Backman had a 222.

★

Lead in the Women's Variety league went to Evelyn Marshman of Larimore Realty. Evelyn had 221-196-125—542 and was followed by Donna Schuster, Stone's Grill, 155-206-168—529.

Others: Mary Dintamin, National Cash Register, 491; Helen Wilhelm, South Boulevard Market, 489; Mary Thodosoff, Market, 486 and Norma Hess, Wilson Auto, 471.

League leading Frankie Mitsch's Store, Larimore and Pendleton's Market recorded sweeps.

★

R. Bachman paced the John Simpson junior high league with 147-128—275. Others: R. Amsbaugh, 269; Jim Amsbaugh, 262 and Ken Harpster, 250.

Last Chance Of Pro Grid Peace Fades

PHILADELPHIA—(UP)—The last prospects of a merger of professional football's warring leagues were shouted down today by a duet of rival magnates.

For all practical purposes, said a merger was killed off when the All America conference reorganized last month. But yesterday Bert Bell, the National league's commissioner and Ben Lindheimer, chairman of the AAC's executive committee, make it official.

Said Bell: "Obstacles to a merger cannot be overcome."

And in Chicago, Lindheimer chorused, "The All American conference will continue to operate through the years independently of any other league."

FIRST AGREEMENT

That, probably, was the first time that any two members of the rival leagues agreed since the AAC was organized three years ago.

Bell's statements were made in a press conference he called to reply to charges made by James Breuil, owner of the Buffalo AAC entry. Breuil said that only two NFL owners—Tim Mara of the New York Giants and George Marshall of the Washington Redskins — blocked recent peace moves.

This Bell denied. And then he gave the NFL's version of the recent negotiations. In effect he said what everyone knew: The NFL was willing to take in Cleveland and San Francisco and let the remaining AAC teams die. The AAC wanted either a two-league setup or one 14-team league including Buffalo, Baltimore and the Los Angeles Dons. Result: Stalemate.

IDEA IS DROPPED

Bell insisted that only once during the December peace meeting in Philadelphia was it suggested that the AAC remain in business as an individual league, and he added that the idea was dropped quickly.

Lindheimer, in Chicago, didn't deny this flatly.

Little Walnut Creek Wins 18

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Over in the hills of southeastern Holmes county, snuggled half way between Berlin and Sharesville on state route 39 is the little Amish settlement of Walnut Creek.

The village has 153 residents. The high school boasts 14 boys a dozen are on the basketball team.

And like the famed "Waterloo Wonders" of a decade and a half ago from the "knobs" of Lawrence county, the Walnut Creek kids are running wild on the hardwoods.

The school couldn't find a coach when the cage season started, so Abe Mast president of the Sugarcreek Clay Craft Co., teaches the quintet at night. And what a job he's done!

The Cardinals have rolled up 18 victories in a row, amassing 1100 points for a 61 average while holding the opposition to 35 per game. Midvale, the eastern district's Class B champion was victimized 47-41 on its own floor.

Not one of the kids is over six feet tall but all are fast and all can hit that bucket. You'll be hearing more of 'em around tournament time.

Walnut Creek is not the only clean-record Class B team, however. Junction city has 21 Lakeview in Logan county has 19, North Baltimore 16 and New Knoxville 15 in a row, while Fredericktown had 20 straight until it ran into a 50-38 setback at the hands of Lima St. Rose over the weekend.

Monroeville, which dropped its opener, has a 15-1 record. Hoag-Lnjackson 15-1 and Ames-bern 17-1. Sabina, which hasn't been beaten on its home floor since 1942, has a 9-3 mark. Records of other clubs which from time to time have made their mark in tournament play include: Guard 13-2, Struthers 5-11, Mineral Ridge 13-5, Lowellville 12-2, Edison 14-5, North Canton 9-6, Willshire 14-2, Middle Point 10-4, Lisbon 11-4, Mingo Junction 11-3, Stryker 15-2, Delphos St Johns, 19-2, Waynesburg 13-2, Enon 14-2, Olive Branch 14-2, Pickerington 15-3 and Racine 12-2.

Penn Auto Wins Second Half City A Cage Title

Baker Swishes 21; Komito's In Victory

Penn Auto and Sporting Goods last night clinched the second half championship in the City A basketball league by winning a somewhat easy 54-to-38 victory over Yuncker Sports at John Simpson.

The victory gave Penn a six and one record in the second half. Penn will meet Ohio Sport Center for the league title Feb. 14. The latter club is now tied for fourth place in the second half race.

With Bobby Baker throwing in 21 points, Penn led all the way. Score by quarters favored the winners, 8 to 5, 24 to 19 and 37 to 26. Sam Roberts connected for 12 points for Penn.

TIE FOR SECOND

In the other City A game last night, Komito's Clothes surprised Rogers Jewelry, 51 to 39. Rogers had been in undisputed possession of second place but now is tied with Komito's for the runner-up spot. Each of the quintets has won four and lost three.

Komito's held only a 22-19 lead at the half but pulled away in the last two quarters. Don Hardy was the top scorer with 13 markers.

The preliminary contest saw the Independents leave the National league cellar by edging Four Square Gospel, 34 to 33, on Bob Boyd's last minute fielder on a fast break. Never more than four points separated the two teams with Four Square in front most of the way.

Ralph Postlewaite, 6-5 Independent center, dunked in 18 points.

Charles Gets Kayo Victory Over Haynes

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Ezzard Charles looked forward to a possible June title match with Joe Louis and back to a close shave against 214-pound Johnny Haynes of New York.

Charles, 179-pound Cincinnatian, had one of the narrowest escapes of his ring career last night in beating Haynes via a knockout at 2:38 of the eighth furious round of their scheduled 10-rounder.

LANDS UPPERCUT

Charles converted his speed and bounce into victory with a right uppercut that knocked Haynes flat on his back in the eighth.

Haynes, a 6 foot 4 giant, got to one knee at eight but stayed there as he was counted out.

A minute before, Haynes had been bombarding Charles across the ring with a series of slashing rights to the head. It appeared that Charles was on the way to defeat.

Your Telephone Company Has Spent Tremendous Sums to Expand Its Service In MANSFIELD and RICHLAND COUNTY

When you go to buy things today you know what's happened to prices. Well, the railroads are up against the same problem. Everything the railroads buy, from steel rails to box cars, has jumped nearly double in price since 1939!

Since that time freight rates have increased only 52% and passenger fares a scant 25%. Now that doesn't add up!

You begin to wonder how the railroads do it—continue to do the great job of providing dependable transportation for the nation. The answer, of course, is greater efficiency through their huge investments in better tools and equipment.

The men who run the railroads know it takes constant building and improving to keep giving the finest transportation at the lowest cost. That's why for the past 25 years they have wisely plowed back an average of $2.00 for new equipment for every $1.00 paid out in dividends. In the last few years this ratio has been even higher—about $4.00 for every dividend dollar!

To keep on doing this fine job, the railroads must be allowed a fair profit for the services they perform. For that is the only way they can further increase their efficiency and keep costs down for their customers in the future. To put the whole story in a few words—

GOOD EARNINGS TODAY MEAN BETTER SERVICE TOMORROW!

I'ma Noa Gonna Tell!!
No sir! We have a healthy business conscience toward our carefully selected properties, so we know that you'll understand why we can't give the address of this attractive 3-family home (it's just that our feet are on the floor, not on the desk). So while we're showing you all the way through and explaining the lively income that can be yours, don't worry about "obligations." Afterwards, if you think she no good, we faint. The location is extra good, northwest, and you'll be seeing a completely rejuvinated dwelling that is all set for maximum income with minimum repairs. "Exclusive listing." Only $8,800. HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

City Park Costs Up By $7,303

But Department Has a Balance!

A total of $56,290 was spent during 1948 on Mansfield public parks, the annual report of the board of park commissioners revealed today. The figure was $7,303 more than the $48,987 spent in 1947.

The major portion of the total expenditures, $25,842 went for salaries and wages for caretakers and other workers. Supplies accounted for $8,997 of the total. Rest rooms at Maple Lake park were installed at a cost of $5,882. The superintendent and his secretary received $3,300; fuel and light cost $3,102; building of black top tennis courts cost $3,142.

Roads, operating equipment, culverts, and streams accounted for the balance of the amount used. Of the $57,607 allowed for the parks in 1948, $1,316 was carried over for this year.

A heater at Johns park was installed, but the cost, $3,383, was met with funds carried over from the previous year.

Expenditures on each of the parks were as follows:

Central park—$4,623; North Lake park—$5,405; Middle and South park—$5,964; Maple Lake park $1,901 (rest room project not included); Johns park—$3,472; Prospect park—$3,407; Liberty park—$5,491; John Todd park—$1,983.

A $2,000 tool house and garage was built last year in Liberty park. The funds for the project were contributed by the Liberty Park association.

transferred to Ford Meade for a similar course in investigation work.

VISITS OLD OFFICE.

In October, 1945, after I had been at the Fort Meade school for a short period, I was permitted a little time to go to Washington to see my family. I went by the old House Office building.

At committee headquarters the new chairman, Rep. John S. Wood (D., Ga.), and Rep. Thomas deplored the manner in which the latest investigations had failed to produce fruitful information.

"There's no reason in the world why you should be kept in the army, doing nothing, when we need you," Wood said. "I'm getting you out immediately."

That suited me. I had another 24 hours with my family and then reported back to Camp Holabird, near Baltimore, to which camp my new school had been moved during my furlough.

I groped my way to my bunk in the darkness and was just settling down when I heard a voice in the darkness of the bunk above me ask "Are you Stripling?"

"Yes."

"They been looking for you."

"That right?" I asked, pleased that Wood had acted so speedily.

"Yeah. You're being sent to Tokyo."

Rep. Thomas hit the ceiling when he found out about my new assignment. He had Gen. Persons, the army's representative on the Legislative Deferment board, call the colonel commanding my school at Holabird.

The colonel at Holabird said there was little he could do about the order.

"The request from Tokyo is for a man with exactly Stripling's qualifications," he told Gen. Persons.

"Listen," Persons shouted into the phone, "if this fellow Stripling is so --- ----- important, why don't you at least promote him to privat first class?

But my furlough ended without further incident and I returned to camp to pack my gear again. A Lt. Murray interrupted that chore to call me to his office.

"I don't know who you are, soldier, but I've never had as much trouble in my life. I got a call from the Secretary of State's office today. You're to be taken off orders."

It took an act of Congress — the bill which enabled all servicemen with 18 months service to get out — to return me to civilian life.

Back in Washington I was asked to give a course in subversive activities to a special class of 50 high-ranking Air Force officers at the Pentagon.

As for the House un-American Activities committee, it had fallen into a depressing state. I got a taste of what a lot of returning servicemen suffered when the committee's new counsel offered me two days' work at $10 a day, " . if I cared to return."

I had worked too hard to turn away in disgust. I brought up the question of the GI Bill of Rights, and soon was back in my job as chief investigator. There was a lot of work to do .. as well as some work to undo.

(Tomorrow: Gerhart Eisler, No. 1 U.S. communist, is uncovered and makes a stormy appearance before the committee.)

Chinese Currency Plummets Down; Li Seeks New Key to Peace

...netary ...sis Hits ...th China

...n Inflated 75% In 4 Days

NANKING —(INS)— Nationalist China's Acting President Li Tsung-Jen flew from Nanking to Shanghai today in a dramatic new effort to stimulate peace moves.

The nation's currency simultaneously began falling apart in a monetary crisis brought on by the government's military defeats in the civil war.

Li landed at Shanghai unexpectedly this morning The purpose of his second trip to China's largest city within the past fortnight was to confer with members of a civic peace delegation standing by at Shanghai for a flight to Peiping.

Li's surprise arrival in Shanghai followed by some 12 hours a communist broadcast attacking the acting president's personal representative, Dr. Kan Chieh Hou, a graduate of Wisconsin and Harvard universities.

The broadcast quoted a communist spokesman as referring to Kan as a "peddler of cheap American goods known under the brand name of 'peace offensive'." It said that if Kan came north with the peace mission he would be "deported by the people of Peiping."

The monetary crisis arose as the governments of provinces still in nationalist territory started issuing their own money while huge communist armies massed for an expected drive across the Yangtze into the heart of China.

In South China, Governor Hsueh Yueh of Kwangtung province announced the issuance of provincial currency, based on the value of rice and silver, to replace the swiftly deteriorating national gold yuan.

During the past four days the disintegrating gold yuan has become inflated 75 per cent. In other words, its purchasing and exchange value has dropped to only one-fourth of what it was four days ago.

In the face of the currency's rapid devaluation, the governments of Hunan and other provinces reportedly made plans to follow Kwangtung's example and issue independent currencies of their own for circulation within their provincial borders.

Hits Schools On Training For Vocation

VA Speaker Asks Early Guidance

George D. Weigel, chief of the Veterans Administration's vocational guidance center at Wooster college, speaking to the Exchange club yesterday, said that vocational guidance should begin early in life. He declared public schools devote little, if any, of the yearly budget to this phase of education although industry has long recognized the benefits derived from the proper placement of employes through personnel departments utilizing psychological and aptitude tests aimed at bringing out the natural talents of an employe.

"To be able to guide a man successfully", Weigel said, "We must know everything about him-his past employment, education, what and why he liked or disliked in the service, and particularly his social activities. These all play an important part in the final analysis of what position he is qualified to hold!

After a vocational counselor has this background of an individual, then the actual testing of the person's intelligence, aptitude, and interests begin, said Weigle.

He pointed out that these tests are merely an aid to selecting a career, and it is the overall personality and experience of the individual that must be considered and discussed with the person before advising him to pursue a particular occupation.

Arrangements for Weigel's appearance at the noon meeting in the Mansfield-Leland hotel were made by program co-chairman Alvin Preyer and M. R. Seybold.

The plant has been the center of a heated, two-year controversy over its location.

Snow-Bound West Hit By High Winds

Bitter Storm Strands 10,000

(By United Press)

Strong winds ripped up the deep snow across western Nebraska and the Dakotas today, flinging it into new drifts that threatened to re-block roads just opened by thousands of men and machines.

The storm roared across the northern plains after leaving more than 10,000 travelers stranded in the rockies and along their western slopes.

Little snow accompanied the blow once it hit the open ranges. But forecasters said the wind has "plenty of ammunition" in the way of snow on the ground to hurl against ranch houses, fence lines and road cuts to form new drifts.

A new storm poised off the Pacific coast, ready to slug the west with another punch within 24 hours. It was born in the Aleutians and raced toward the California - Oregon - Washington coast early today.

Forecasters said it was a "twin brother" of the storm lashing the plains. They said it would be just as bad and will follow the same path"

Residents of mountain areas were plagued by a new danger as overburdened mountain slopes sent avalanches crashing into the valleys.

The coast and mountain states worked frantically to free thousands of trapped travelers and residents before the new storm struck.

Loudonville Chlorinator Need Pushed

Health Director Urges Installation

ASHLAND — Installation of a gas chlorinator in the Loudonville city water system in the near future will prevent a recurrence of the recent epidemic of illness which plagued the city when the old chlorinator broke down, Dr. C. B. Meuser, city-county health director stated today.

Temporary repairs to the present chlorinator have provided the city with water free of bacteria, he said. He anticipates no recurrence of the situation which caused over 1,000 Loudonville residents to become violently ill in January.

One Loudonville typhoid death Saturday and another person seriously ill with typhoid is traced by Dr. Mauser to the breakdown of the chlorinator. This week is the incidence period for contacts with the two victims, both restaurant workers, and the commissioner is watching anxiously for any further outbreak of the disease.

Mrs. Lena Pringle, 41, who died Saturday at the hospital here, was the first fatality from the typhoid regarded as an aftermath of the chlorinator breakdown. Services for the mother of five sons, native of Alton, W. Va., were to be held at Loudonville this morning with further services Wednesday at Buckhannon, W. Va.

Discovery of bacillus coli in untreated Loudonville water has led village officials to plan moving a sewer line which is only two feet from one of the water mains. The bacillus was found by state department of health investigators.

Repairs to the chlorination plant give Loudonville a clean bill of health as far as the water situation is concerned, with D. P. Griffin, division sanitary engineer for the state having given his O. K. to the city water as it is now.

Baptist Minister Going To Atlantic City

Galion Pastor Accepts Call

BY CATHERINE RORICK
(N-J State Correspondent)

GALION — Rev. Cyril G. Collison, who has been pastor of First Baptist church here for the past six years and seven months, has accepted a call to the Chelsea Baptist church, Atlantic City, N. J. His letter of resignation was read during the morning worship hour Sunday and accepted by his congregation.

Since his call to the Galion church, on his 34th birthday, June 14, 1942, Rev. Collison has been an outstanding leader and under his guidance the local church has progressed in many fields.

The number "thirteen" is significant in his work here. While the church was not supporting any missionaries when he came here, there are now 13 missionaries and church workers being supported entirely or partially.

The church debt of $2,200 was paid off in 13 weeks, a short time after Rev. Collison came to Galion. Another "13" looms up when it is noted there are 13 young people from the Galion church now either in religious training or service.

A diligent worker, Rev. Collison appears a minimum of 300 times per year in Bible teachings and preachings. He is now writing for two magazines, The Ohio Independent Baptist and The Baptist Bulletin.

His sermon was chosen the "sermon-of-the-month" last year by The Baptist Bulletin, a national magazine. A series of newspaper articles also were contributed by Rev. Collison. He also is state director for the Rural Bible Crusade in Ohio which has established its office in Galion.

For various Bible and missionary conferences, Rev. Collison has appeared as an eloquent speaker. Two years ago he appeared before the Sudan Interior Mission conference, which was held in Iowa.

Under his guidance, the Galion First Baptist church became a member of the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches after it withdrew from the Northern Baptist convention and the Mansfield association.

A native of England, Rev. Collison came to this country in 1913 (another thirteen). He was graduated from Moody Bible Institute in Chicago.

Rev. Collison plans to leave for Atlantic City with his wife and two sons, Edward and Ronald, when his resignation becomes effective here March 6. The new church in Atlantic City is an outstanding edifice of sandstone construction, and is located on Atlantic avenue, a block and a half west of the famous boardwalk. He appeared at the church on Oct. 10, and was notified last week of his selection as pastor.

Before coming to Galion, Rev. Collison had a pastorate at Sharon, Pa.

Garbage Bills Due Thursday

Thursday is the last day for paying garbage bills, Waterworks Secretary F. E. Lingafelter said today. Only two-thirds of the bills sent out have been paid so far he said.

Lingafelter reminded persons who go to the city building to pay the bills that they should be sure to take their statements. Persons who mail their payments should enclose stubs.

Amvets Pick Delegates

Representatives from Robert P. Spreng Post No. 26 Amvets, were appointed to the Richland County Joint Veterans commission and to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief commission last night by Amvet Commander Robert Bonham.

Delegates assigned to the joint veterans' commission were Robert Miller and Harmon Freeman. Thomas Hoffman, representing the Third ward, and Paul Dune, representing the Fifth ward, were appointed to represent the veterans' organization to relief commission.

Amvet members also voted donations to the Red Cross and to the March of Dimes. The regular session of the group was held at the Amvet clubrooms on West Fourth street road.

Scott Named 'Best Scout'

Scout William Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Scott, 552 South Diamond street, was awarded the honor of "Best All-Around Scout" at the annual Parents-Scouts dinner of Troop 5, last night.

The award was presented by assistant Scoutmaster Robert Pore, who also commissioned Scout Richard Phipps as troop scribe and junior assistant scoutmaster.

Other awards went to Dwight Moore, Marvin Mawhorr and Richard Phipps for perfect attendance at Scout meetings for the past year, and to Perry Kilgore, Peter Graffel, Marvin Mawhorr, William Cook, Harold Bryan, Charles Burkhart, Raymond Wallace and Dwight Moore for taking an active part in all civic programs undertaken by the troop.

Service stars were awarded to Richard Pore and Richard Phipps for five years service to Scouting.

Two tenderfoot Scouts were inducted into Troop 5 after completing their requirements as Cub Scouts. They were Francis Kaiser and Jerry Pilot.

Bright Sun Chases Cold

Mansfielders enjoyed more spring-like weather today, but there are indications it won't last long.

Light rain was forecast late tonight or tomorrow and then the temperature wil drop sharply.

The bitter cold forecast last night failed to materialize, the mercury falling only to 22 degrees. It was 44 at noon today.

The weather bureau's five-day forecast follows:

Temperatures somewhat above normal for the period. Colder Wednesday. Warmer by Friday. Colder Saturday. Rain or snow around Thursday night and again near end of week. Total precipitation about one - half inch.

Goble Orders Halt On Induction Exams

COLUMBUS — (UP) — A halt to all induction and pre-induction physical examination orders was called today by Ohio Selective Service Director Chester W. Goble.

Goble said the holiday on inductions would be "until further notice." He said he expected at least 60 days notice before inductions would be resumed,

Scouts Interested In City Rule, But Shy at Mayor's Job

Three prominent Mansfielders want to be mayor, but not a single Boy Scout is interested in the job. They indicated as much at the meeting of the Scout congress in city hall this morning.

Thomas J. Wright, Republican councilman, and Charles Anglin, former Democratic councilman, are candidates for the mayoral nomination and Mayor Roy W. Vaughn is seeking his third term in the office. The scouts, however, cast a very cold eye on the position today after hearing Vaughn outline the functions of the executive branch of city government.

Several scouts indicated they would like to be councilmen. They raised their hands, too when asked if they had aspirations toward becoming a judge or a congressman—but mayor? Not a single hand went up.

The scouts' visit to city hall was part of the observance of National Boy Scout week.

They were addressed by Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler who outlined the various parts of the city government—judiciary, executive, and legislative—and explained that the courts were a part of the judiciary branch of the city.

He told how the municipal court operates and what cases can be tried in his court. Later the scouts attended the morning session of Judge Schettler's court.

Paul Bush, president of the city council, described the duties and the activities of the council, as a part of talk on the legislative branch of a city.

City Post Still Open

With the resignation of Service-Safety Director Earl Garrison only one week away, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn is still undecided about a successor for Garrison.

Mayor Vaughn said today he had several applications but he had not made any decision. He declined to name the applicants.

Garrison submitted his resignation Jan. 14, effective a week from today. He resigned because he termed the action of city council on 1949 pay scales as "discriminatory and prejudiced" after he asked for a $1,200 pay raise and was allowed only $300.

Judge Sends Jones to Pen

Roscie Jones, 38, of East Sixth street, was sentenced to one to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary today by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch on a charge of stabbing with intent to wound.

N Jones was placed on probation for five years on a guilty plea to this charge on May 16, 1945, but the probation was revoked today by Judge Kalbfleisch after Jones violated the terms of his probation.

The probation of Charles E. Brown, 35, of 32½ Sycamore street, was continued by the court today. Brown was accused of failing to make support payments since Nov. 22 after being placed on probation for five years on Sept. 24, 1944, on his plea of guilty to neglect to provide for children.

He was ordered to have a doctor's certificate for those times when he has been unable to work.

Clifford A. Smith, of 255 Park avenue east, was placed on three years probation on his plea of guilty to carrying a concealed weapon. Police arrested him carrying a Navy Commando knife with a five-inch blade last Oct. 23.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR — MANSFIELD, OHIO, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1949

"Science discovers that Man had credit before he had cash"—and afterward, also, it appears.

After all, the totalitarian system of government is in force in several parts of the United States. Only here we call it boss rule.

Who ever imagined, when the present generation was born, that millions of people would be parking their cars on the streets at night for lack of other space?

Some Laws Enforced, Others Ignored

WHILE a city of Mansfield's size cannot be kept entirely free from crimes of violence, such as the murder committed on Main street last Saturday night, there should be no diminution of effort to improve conditions which are recognized as contributing causes to lawlessness.

Chief of Police Schwab, in his recently submitted annual report, recommended addition of 19 officers to the police department, and this recommendation would carry greater weight if assurance could be felt that the present force is being used to the extent of its capacity in performing the various tasks for which policemen are employed.

The close association of commercialized gambling operations with other forms of law violation—sometimes with major or minor crimes—justifies directing public notice to the fact that the present police department personnel is ample to deal successfully with this phase of law enforcement.

As was demonstrated early last year, no more than Chief Schwab's announcement of what he termed a "permanent" ban on illegal gambling was needed to cause a shut-down of gambling places, including the horse bookie joint, and the disappearance of gambling devices of various sorts from store counters.

Return of wide-open gambling two months later was not a matter of inadequate policing—it was no more than a notification to patrolmen of return of a "hands off" policy by the administration—with total disregard of state and local laws that prohibit commercialized gambling.

As some laws are thus flouted by highly-placed officials such as the mayor and police chief of a city, it is difficult for many people to understand why they should not also have the right to decide which laws they should obey and which they should ignore—and an occasional person may even feel that a crime of violence can be included in the right of individual decision.

It is difficult to impress people—children and adults—with the seriousness of law violations when some laws are not enforced by officials who are thus guilty of what lawyers call "nonfeasance," with sometimes a suspicion of "malfeasance."

Other Fuels Superseding Coal

THERE is enough coal beneath the ground of the United States to last the country a thousand years, says Dr. Edward R. Weidlein, director of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research.

This is a more comforting estimate than some, which have ranged as low as 300 years. Even the lowest estimate, however, is no cause for immediate worry. There is also a tremendous amount of lignite, sometimes called "brown coal," a fuel part way between coal and peat in fuel value. The estimate is for coal alone, but the presence of lignite lessens anxiety.

Of more concern to the coal industry than the supply of coal is the market for it. Since the development of both home and industrial furnaces to burn oil and gas, coal has lost much favor. Recapture of some of this market is dreamed of through the refining of coal into a clean, smokeless, ashless fuel. As a practical matter this is not so simple.

Coal in its native state is hard put to it to compete in price with oil and gas, and with increased costs of refining processes it might not be able to compete in the present market.

Hence the industry is looking for less costly ways to convert coal into liquid or gaseous fuel, or otherwise refine it, and also for ways to reduce the costs of mining and handling a ton of coal. New mechanical mining machines offer hope in this direction.

Giving Thought To Divorce Laws

DISTURBED by recent revelations of divorce irregularities in Cleveland and Columbus, Governor Lausche is thinking along lines of advising legislative extension of the waiting time before a divorce can be granted in Ohio.

While this state does not cater to the divorce business, as does Nevada, Florida, and a few others, procedure is relatively simple, with no more than six weeks waiting period required before a divorce may be granted.

It is Governor Lausche's idea that a longer time should be allowed, for possible reconciliation, and it would appear that divorce requirements might well be made more difficult where minor children are involved, as so-called "broken homes" provide a substantial contribution to juvenile delinquency.

A longer "waiting period" before marriages might also be advantageous in reducing the divorce crop, as evidenced by the frequency with which hasty marriages wind up soon afterward in the divorce court.

Frankly Speaking

General Welfare First

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—In this country does a man have the right to work or quit his job if he dislikes the working conditions?

"Yes," you say. "In this country every man is free to do as he pleases so long as he doesn't hurt someone else."

But does a man in an industry which affects the public health and welfare, like a railroad, have a right to quit if he dislikes his job?

Again you say "Yes," for the same reason as before. But then comes a bigger question:

Do all the railroad workers, banded together in a union, have a right to quit their job in a strike over working conditions?

Remember, before you say "Yes," what a railroad strike might mean: If it lasted long enough it might starve the nation and cause a revolution against the government which failed to stop it and get food to the people.

Faced with that, you may say: "No. A union in a vital industry like that should not be allowed to strike."

But isn't that contradicting what you just said a minute ago, when you said an individual has a right to strike if he doesn't like a job.

Yet, when it involves a collection of such individuals in a union, you say "No." How do you draw such a line?

Does an individual, in your mind, lose his individual rights when he and other individuals act upon their individual rights collectively?

You may answer something like this:

"The general welfare comes first. An individual striking in a vital industry won't hurt the general welfare. Nor will it be hurt by a whole union striking in a non-vital industry.

"But when a strike by a union in a vital industry can hurt, or even destroy the general welfare, I say such a strike should not be permitted."

* * *

Limits On Freedom.

BUT if you compel an individual, or a union, to work at any kind of job, isn't that a form of slavery? Isn't forcing a man to work against his will contrary to the Constitution which forbids "involuntary servitude?"

You may argue: "This is a free society, I know. But no man's freedom in America is complete. Freedom here is limited and it's limited for the sake of what I just said: The general welfare.

"For instance, there's a law against murder. So that's a limit on the freedom of any man to kill. But that limit on everyone's freedom increases everyone's freedom from fear of being killed. So we yield some freedom to gain some freedom.

"So our problem in this country is how to preserve the most freedom even when we find it necessary to restrict some freedoms for the general welfare.

"A big strike that endangered the general welfare, or led to a revolution that brought on a dictatorship and an end to all freedom, should not be allowed."

Yes, but a strike is labor's biggest and final weapon in trying to force an employer into an agreement on wages and working conditions.

And labor fears that once there was a law forbidding strikes in big, vital industries, inch by inch this power to stop strikes might spread to the most non-vital industries and, in time, prevent all strikes of any kind.

This is one of the problems Congress faces in trying to figure out a new labor law that will protect the freedom of individuals and unions and at the same time protect the general welfare from the damage of a big strike.

Assignment: America

Changed, Not Improved

By INEZ ROBB

PALM BEACH, Fla.—Everybody wants to get into the act in Palm Beach. The cast of characters has doubled since I was last here almost ten years ago—but it hasn't improved.

In fact, it has taken me almost 48 hours to figure out what is missing from the scene. Now I realize that what is gone but not forgotten is that tired old cast of Noel Coward characters.

It was known as "the international set," and was composed exclusively of glossy hoboes who wandered the good earth prior to World War II in search of Scotch, sun and sex.

Its "design for living," in the winter, consisted of hitch-hiking to Palm Beach and installing itself, lock, stock and dinner jacket, as the house guest of one rich American sucker after another.

It lived high on the hog, and anytime it didn't kick up at least one scandal a week, the winter colony felt cheated. It seldom felt cheated. In general, the international set had the manners of an oaf and the morals of a rabbit.

But it always had such nice titles, either real or invented in an upper berth en route to Palm Beach. And we Americans love a fancy handle.

At this point in the season in the old days, there were always at least two bonafide British dukes in residence, a smattering of French elegants, and one or two of Mussolini's bright boys looking for an American heiress loaded with dough. Also, there were usually a half dozen fancy divorce suits in the making and some American husband had hung a mouse on one of the visiting lotharios.

* * *

Now it's a "Quadrangle."

AH, WELL, those were the good old days. The international glamor pusses can't get the funds with which to travel any longer.

However, the Palm Beach cast of characters today is not completely without glamor or gossip. It keeps a beady eye on an interesting quadrangle (Palm Beach long since outgrew anything as simple as triangles.)

This quadrangle consists of Lady Stanley, formerly Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, and her current suitor, Woolworth Donahue, the eminent five-and-dime heir, Lady Stanley's former suitor, Bob Sweeney, once British amateur golf champ, and his former fiancee, Joanne Connelly, heralded as this season's most beautiful debutante.

Sweeney is a very interesting case history. He is tall, dark and handsome. And he is always getting engaged to such international beauties as Barbara Hutton, Lady Stanley and Miss Connelly. But, they always leave him waiting at the church. He is the mostest-left-waiting-at-the-church man of our time. I think he's cute.

Lady Stanley is another interesting case. Still as blond and pretty as ever, she has twice been a titled lady in her short lifetime. She was Lady Ashley when she married the late Douglas Fairbanks. Later she married—and divorced—Lord Stanley.

Now she may cease being a lady at any moment to become Mrs. Donahue.

The current cast of Palm Beach characters ranges from Babe Didrikson, who came to Palm Beach to play an exhibition golf match with Sweeney, to John Alden Talbot jr., an aging playboy who drinks champagne out of his own brogans.

Palm Beach needs something to take its mind off its miseries, too. This colony is as sensitive to the stock market as to a gum boil. If the market continues to nosedive, all the sunshine in the south won't penetrate the stygian gloom.

Let United Lead Plants drop another five points and the intense suffering down here will be too much for a sensitive soul like myself to bear.

A millionaire, moanin' low with the market miseries, is the saddest sound on earth.

U. S. Goal Is To Win Russian Satellites

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — In a private, dramatic session with the Senate armed services committee, state department officials revealed that the chief goal of American foreign policy is to push the iron curtain back to the Russian borders. By economic and political pressure, the United States hopes to pull the Soviet satellites out of the communist orbit.

Attending the hush-hush military briefing were George Kennan, the state department's Russian expert; Maj. Gen. Alfred Gruenther, secretary to the joint chiefs of staff; Secretary of Defense Forrestal, General Eisenhower and Secretary of Air Symington.

*

General Gruenther, who planned much of the U. S. Army's strategy in Italy, compared the size of Russian and American forces in western Germany, and outlined American battle plans in case of attack.

The details he gave cannot be printed, but it is no secret that Russia holds an overwhelming edge in manpower. Gruenther, though a ground general, remarked significantly that America's hope lay in her air power.

Speaking for the state department, Kennan interpreted Stalin's offer to talk peace with Truman as a sign of weakness. The Kremlin had to appear to seek peace abroad, Kennan explained, in order to keep peace at home.

He pointed out that all is not rosy in Russia — that steel production is low, that transportation is inadequate and that Red army deserters are giving trouble.

The state department is convinced, Kennan declared, that Stalin's peace gesture cannot be trusted. His offer to meet Truman was part of a "peace offensive," calculated to influence world opinion, to put the West at ease and to gain a breathing spell.

* * *

No War Expected.

RUSSIA is better equipped for barking than biting, just now, Kennan said, so the experts don't expect war — unless it is precipitated accidentally.

He warned, however, that Americans may as well make up their minds to a long siege of the cold war — a constant battle of nerves with a power that can't be trusted.

Meanwhile, Kennan reported, democracy is gaining ground against communism in Western Europe.

The Marshall Plan is feeding new life into the battered European economy, and the proposed Atlantic Pact is giving new confidence to the struggling European democracies.

The state department was heartened by Norway's move to join the alliance, though Sweden has managed to keep out of two world wars by walking the fence, and is relying upon strict neutrality to keep her out of the cold war, too.

Eisenhower had nothing to say at the meeting. At lunch later, he remarked that he was not worried about war with Russia. Nevertheless America cannot afford to be unprepared again as at Pearl Harbor. For powder kegs, said Ike, have a habit of going off accidentally.

Note — Chairman Tydings wouldn't disclose at the meeting what the armed services committee was likely to do this year—except he thought the unification law ought to be revised before the services got into bad habits under the present system. He also promised to take up early the question of extending selective service, so that the Pentagon would know how many men it could count on.

* * *

Old Stamping Ground.

IT LOOKS as if the Reconstruction Finance corporation could stand a long-overdue investigation by Congress. If the Democrats are smart, they'll start one before someone else beats them to it.

For years the all-powerful Jesse Jones kept Congress out of his hair, even had his account books exempt from inspection by thorough-going Comptroller General Lindsay Warren. Jesse had too many congressmen under obligation to him through loans to constituents.

But now even a little surface scratching shows that the boys at the top don't entirely know what the RFC is doing.

Take, for instance, the fees collected by ex-Congressman Frank Hancock in connection with loans to North Carolina firms, which pass through the hands of Ernest Howard, chief of the RFC business loans division and Hancock's brother-in-law.

When this column queried RFC Director Harvey Gunderson about the matter, he expressed surprise and ignorance. Gunderson, who gives the appearance of wanting to do right, said he had complete confidence in Ernest Howard and was certain he was not being used by his brother-in-law to push loans through the RFC.

After considerable hesitation, however, Gunderson consented to send for the North Carolina loans of $100,000 or over and see whether Hancock was the attorney for the loan to the Strickland Furniture company, of High Point, N. C.

It was for lobbying on this loan that Hancock received a lush fee, after Strickland hitherto had been unable to get the loan past Hancock's brother-in-law.

* * *

Hancock's Campaign Manager.

PUSHING a buzzer, the RFC director called William Devin and asked him to dig up the North Carolina loans. When Devin brought them back, Hancock's name was not listed as attorney for the Strickland Furniture company.

"Did you know," Gunderson was asked later, "that Devin, the man you asked to dig up the information on Hancock, was formerly Hancock's campaign manager?"

"No, I didn't," replied Gunderson.

"Well, he was. Devin managed Hancock's campaign for the Senate against Rep. Bob Reynolds in 1938. And he's the man whom you had digging up facts about Hancock."

Gunderson was also reminded that though Hancock's name was not listed as attorney for Strickland, nevertheless his fee was ok'd by the RFC.

Furthermore, the official RFC loan contract lists a standby agreement between Strickland and Hancock, showing that Hancock was owed money by Strickland.

Gunderson also admitted that the average time it takes the RFC to grant a loan is one month. In contrast, Strickland got the runaround from the RFC for about a year — until he hired Hancock, brother-in-law of the business loan section chief. Then all his troubles vanished.

This is just one sample of the runaround that can be given by a government agency that is long overdue for congressional housecleaning.

Annoyed By Criticism

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — Quite often the story of a single individual pitted against the system on a matter than he considers one of principle throws light on what goes on in the system, whether it be government, business or whatnot, and sometimes leads to necessary changes in basic policy.

That is, if a fellow dares to stick his neck out and take the consequences.

Such seems to be offered in the case of Alexander Sacks, a New York lawyer who has been on the staff of the decartelization branch of American military government in Germany for a year and a half.

He first was suspended, as revealed by this reporter some time ago, and now he has been "separated" or dismissed or plain "fired," because of his criticism of William H. Draper, now under secretary of the army and formerly chief of the economics division of military government in Germany, and other officials whom he accused of hampering the program designed to break up the big German cartels or monopolies that supplied the nazi war machine.

Friends of Mr. Sacks, who formerly was employed in the justice department's anti-trust division and other government agencies, have rallied to his defense, and Wendell Berge, formerly chief of the anti-trust division, now a lawyer in private practice here, has taken his case as counsel before the war department.

The suspension order, effective January 10 and signed by General Charles Gailey, chief of the staff of the office of military government for the United States in Germany, charged Mr. Sacks with "making statements attacking the integrity and good faith of the under secretary of the army."

The separation order, signed January 20 and effective January 29, broadens this to include attacks by Mr. Sacks also on the "good faith and integrity" of other "key U. S. military government officials charged with the formulation of policy and the implementation of the decartelization program in the U. S. zone of Germany."

It was signed by John H. Tromer, chief of the civilian personnel branch. A hearing has been set in a so-called "grievance" case for February 10.

* * *

Public Policy Involved.

THERE is one circumstances of this case which, in the opinion of Mr. Berge, carries it beyond Mr. Sacks and his own actions into the larger field of public policy.

Mr. Sacks's criticism was in a memorandum he submitted, at its request, to the special commission sent to Germany in December by secretary of the army, Kenneth Royall, to investigate the decartelization program as a result of a mass of documentary material he had received designed to show that the decartelization policy was not being carried out effectively and enforced.

The whole record of the commission's investigation in Germany, including Mr. Sack's memorandum, was turned over to Lawrence Wilkinson, economic adviser to General Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany, by Garland S. Ferguson, federal trade commission member and chairman of the special commission.

Mr. Berge said such procedure strikes at the integrity of the investigating process and he asked how any investigation of any kind would be possible if witnesses are going to be intimidated in such a manner.

His aim is to have the hearing moved to the United States on the ground that a proceeding in Germany would be a "star-chamber" proceeding. Furthermore, many of the witnesses he would like to call include people now in this country, some of whom formerly were attached to the decartelization branch and left it after General Clay's order last March exempting heavy industry from decartelization.

Mr. Sacks was one of 19 members of the decartelization branch staff who signed a protest at that time to General Clay that the order virtually repealed the decartelization act.

Be Good To Old Folks

By ELSIE ROBINSON

THIS is an appeal for old folks. I want you to be good to them. No, do not misunderstand me. I do not ask you to provide them with upholstered chairs and comforts, hot water bottles, cozy corners and malted milk tablets.

I do not desire you to treat them with respect nor to shield them from all knowledge of the present highly improper state of things.

I don't want you to lower your voice or go through a lot of artificial attitudes. I don't want you to overlook their frailties or try to protect them from the clatter of youth or amuse them by the gentle babblings of dead dreams.

Youth imagines these things amuse the old folks but I do not suppose they ever amused any oldster.

Instead I am asking a very different thing of you. I am asking that you let the dying live.

Do not bury them before their time.

Do not put them away while they still want to be useful and active.

Be merciful. Let them share life with you. Let them share life in its full circle of activity. Do not stifle them with courtesy and peace. Let them stay under the testing strains of youth. Argue with them as equals for their brains are still alive. Expect from them the mental suppleness of youth.

Your youth is glorious because it is alive. Let them be alive. Let them share life. Expect from them the same alertness. Laugh with them as you wish them to laugh with you. Give them your friendliness, your rudeness, your bantering criticism.

Laugh at their fears lovingly as you would wish yours laughed it. Do anything, only make them feel that they are in the midst of things as you yourself wish to feel.

Be merciful. Only the outside husks are old. Within, their souls are just as young as yours if you will let them keep their youth as you do yours.

Look into their eyes and see the fire there, then marvel that you ever called them old.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

IT MUST be conceded Mr. Truman did all he could for Stalin. . . . He offered to get the spare room ready and that's more than he did for Dewey.

* * *

Incidentally New Yorkers resent Dewey's proposal of 40 per cent higher tax. . . . They feel this is too high a penalty tax for not sending him to Washington.

* * *

But at least we've got 16 million women gainfully employed in the nation today which means that taxes are being paid in the makeup of some mighty pretty brows.

* * *

John Lewis' taxes are up this year. . . . Like Mr. Truman he was so unfortunate as to get a salary increase.

* * *

Mr. Lewis has just been announced as the winner of the December election of the United Mine Workers. It took a little time to count the ballots but the result was never in doubt.

* * *

The final vote was Lewis 256,000, public opinion 0.

'BALLET, OPERA' THEME OF MUSIC STUDY PROGRAM

Guest Meeting Held at Auditorium of Johnny Appleseed Junior High School Monday Evening.

A MOST UNUSUAL and informative program was presented to 100 members of the Music Study club and their guests last evening at the Johnny Appleseed junior high school auditorium. "Ballet and Opera" was the theme of the entertainment. Lester Young presided as chairman and hostesses were Mrs O W. Aughbaugh and Miss Dorothy Van Voorhis.

Ethyl Battin opened the program with "Story of the Dance." Her part of the program on Ballet Divertissments was composed of selected intermediate ballet students from her Dance Academy and accompanied by their musical director, Ruth Isham

She explained the benefits of the dance, namely coordination, poise and confidence. The routines presented last evening were selected to display the individuality of the performer.

"Arensky Waltz" was presented by the Teeter twins, Carolyn and Franklin, followed by Carol Jean Schad giving "La Cumparsita." Peggy Bayer offered "Hungarian Dance No. 5" by Brahms Cynthia Cretors presented her interpretation of Fritz Kreisler's "Schon Rosmarin," followed by Sally Lou Zeger displaying her accomplishments in the combination of ballet and acrobatics in her "Gypsy Dance." Ruth Irene Sweet, in her Strauss waltz en pointe, was succeeded by Jeannette Cory who gave her vivacious rendition of The Allegro Movement from "The Dance of the Hours." The finale was given by the entire group as they danced an excerpt from "Floral Festival." The role of Fleurette was aptly portrayed by an advanced student, Miss Jeroma Gentille

The second part of the program was given by 22 members of the Music Study Club who composed a string ensemble, under the direction of Mrs. E. D. Gibson. They playd "Overture to the Messiah" by Handel and "Brandenberg Concerto No. 3" by Bach.

"The Story of the Opera" was interestingly given by Mrs Kenneth Greer, who traced opera from the earliest times to the present She told of the progress of opera in Germany and England and of the first opera in this country in Charleston, S C

In describing opera Mrs. Greer told the rules of the early days and of now and gave a vivid description of the opening nights of the Metropolitan. She said "Carmen" was known as the favorite opera Her talk was illustrated by vocal solos, sung by Miss Doris Ranck, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Cahall and Miss Erma Jenkins, who had as her accompanist, Mrs George Hall.

On March 7 Miss Eunice Lea Kettering, state and national chairman of the Federation of Music Clubs, will be the guest speaker Members will convene at 7 45 p m at the home of Mrs. E D Gibson, 282 West Fourth street Theme of the program will be "Ohio Composers," with Miss Hester Robinson, presiding as chairman

Horoscope

For Wednesday, February 9.

BY dint of concentrated attack upon a threatened, disintegrating or destructive situation, with a surprising twist of skills, talents and initiative, under stimulus for successful exploitation or recognition, it may be possible to "mend broken fences" by whole-hearted and persistent attack In this effort well-studied plans, based on application and sagacity, as well as a shrewd insight into basic factors for long-range climax, should avert danger to cherished plans and objectives Shun erratic moods or fancies.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is, may be prepared for a sudden turn of events, or the advent of a strange and disintegrating situation that may upset plans, objectives or cherished hopes and wishes Such might incite to unwelcome change, unfavorable travel, to peculiar nervous stresses or tensions in which it would be easy to do the wrong thing, or to move with erratic rather than sound programs
